Dear Editor:

Holy nutty Putty Man! PLASTIC MAN Nos. 4 and 5 were absolutely extraordinary! I think the Flexible Flyer is the funniest comic mag since the invention of comedy. I haven't missed an ish of the great and glorious gob of goo, and I never will. In a future yarn, I hope you give us his original origin.

Clifton J. Monix, Clarksdale, Miss..

Okay, all you PLASTIC MAN-worshippers, you can knock it off now! You wanted it, and here it is—the shocking, stupendous, sensashe story of our hero's humble beginning. So many of you frantic fans, especially those familiar with PM as he appeared in "Police Comics" in the pre-atomic age, zeroed in on us with a steady barrage of letters demanding this now-it-can-be-told never-before-seen expose, we simply had to comply. And the sooner the better to ward off further fusillades of fan mail.

Among the loudest cries in the chorus, incidentally, came from Marv Wolfman of Flushing, N.Y.; Norris Burroughs and Steven Mirsky, Bronx, N.Y.; John Farrell and Eugene Janas, Brooklyn, N.Y.; John Brunie, Glendale, Calif.; Dane Henas, Fair Oaks, Calif.; Jimmy Buteau, Fremont, Calif.; Ian Forrest, Santa Ana, Calif.; Joseph Lenius and Joseph Knowles of Chicago; Andy Franklin, Larchmont, N.Y.; Ned Davis, Richmond, Va.; and James McCane, Covington, N.Y. Let's hope this mirthful masterpiece about our Human Pretzel finds its niche among the immortals of comicdom!—Ed.

Dear Editor:

Pardon me for having come in late, but I just caught up with PM, and I'm wondering where I can buy, beg, borrow or steal past issues!

Bob Bloomingdale, Liberty, N.Y.

Glad you brought that up, Bob, but we were going to do it, anyway. So pay attention, all you ravin' readers! To those of you who carelessly overlooked this prize-winning page last time, we must report that back numbers of PLASTIC MAN, sad but true, are no longer available! Sorry about that! But demands to buy them from this office were so overwhelming, our stock on hand and at the warehouse, which stores them, were quickly depleted!

So, please! We urge you not to send us your orders and money! From here on in, PLASTIC MAN is only available at your newsstand or via subscription. If you're gonna blow a gasket because you've just gotta have certain past issues, clue us in, and we'll make every effort to relay your letter to a source that may be helpful!—Ed.

PM PATTER (with thanks to Darwin Horak of Granger, Texas, for having suggested the new title for this department): Hector Tellez of Hayward, Calif., and Don Markstein of New Orleans, should be happy to be reunited with Woozy Winks . . . More pleas for PM to go monthly from G. E. Fuechsel, Jr., of Stamford, Conn.; Julius Knoll, Detroit; Darryl Blenner, Elmhurst, N.Y.; John Artale, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Richie Anton, Burbank, Calif.; and a hysterical, howling horde of fans from Springfield, Mo. (If all this wild enthusiasm continues, we'll just have to.—Ed.) . . . Mark Ellsworth from Boise, Idaho, suggests we change the name of this page to "Plastic Postscripts" and Tim Hancock of Wabash, Ind., comes up with "Stretchable Comments." Anybody else got any ideas?—Ed.

Robert Lugo of New York City says he's making his own PLAS pin-up . . . "You have every element known to make a successful comic mag," complains Richard Mills (no address), "but there is too much humor!" (That's the funniest thing we ever heard!—Ed.) . . . "The giddiest, the gaggiest I ever read," roars Larry Crocker of West Monroe, La. "I don't know what else to say!" (You've said enough, and we appreciate.—Ed.) . . . "How ever did you get a name like PLASTIC MAN?" asks Danny O'Donnell of Flushing, N.Y. (If you don't get it by now, Danny, you never will.—Ed.) . . . "What kind of accent does Mrs. De Lute have?" asks Patricia Sullivan, West Islip, N.Y. (Rich lady's language, but her syllables drip with money and malice.—Ed.) . . . "PM No. 5 was great. I nearly fell over laughing," writes Jim Whitt of Lindsay, Okla. "Give your artist and writer a medal." (No sooner said than done, Jim. Bright, shiny, and plastic, of course!—Ed.).
